

Keeping the flame alight during a time of burnout

Sophia Neville & Joel Simpson

Sankofa

What resonates from the myth?

What values did you receive?

What might beauty mean to us now?

'Beauty is not an attribute like a fine skin wrapped around a virtue, merely the aesthetic aspect of appearance. It is appearance itself. Beauty is the way in which the gods touch our senses, reach the heart, and attract us into life'

(Hillman, 1992, p.33)

The Thought of the Heart and the Soul of the World

'...swift, sheer grace, it is like a divine breath that blows the heart open'

(John O' Donoghue, 2003, p.17)

Divine Beauty: The Invisible Embrace

How might your engagement with beauty at Re-Vision offer you a flame, that keeps alight within the organization in it's time of burn out, transition and burn in?
